C. Read.

The Great Wall is in China. It is 1,500 miles long. It winds from Gansu province in the west to the Yellow Sea. It is 25 feet high. It is so big that some say you can see it from space! It took many centuries to build this Wall. Through the years, thousands of Chinese workers built it. It was finished in 200 B.C.E. They built it to keep their enemies out. But the Wall did not protect them. Enemies found ways to climb over the Wall. Today, tourists come to see and walk along the Great Wall. (100)

J. Pronunciation check.

Imagine a wall
all the way from space,
That's what you see
from space!
a very big wall,
In China,
it built a Great Wall
to keep enemies out,

you can see from space,
from space!
from space,
A very long wall,
in China.
a country so big
to keep enemies out,
but still they came in.

K. Talk about it in small groups.

Was the Great Wall a good idea?

Why or why not?

What do countries build or do for protection?

L. Where's Igor going?

Jing: Wei?

Igor: Jing, it's me!

Jing: Where are you now? Shanghai?

Igor: I'm at the airport in Seoul.

Jing: Korea? I thought you were going to Shanghai and then back here.

Igor: I, uh, changed my mind.

Jing: I see. How come?

Igor: I can explain.

Jing: Oh, really?

Igor: Yeah. I had a great time with you at the wall and in Beijing, but I have to be in Tokyo this afternoon and ... Jing? Are you still there? Jing?
